Entry Criteria

Entry criteria is not rigid for every course - equivalent qualifications you may hold, and relevant work experience is considered. Call us, to discuss your prior learning, and options to best suit your needs.

Training Materials

Training notes are provided for all courses. For some courses, pre-reading is required, and appropriate notes are sent to you to study approximately 2 weeks prior to the course starting.

Course Certification

Course certification for successful students is issued within 10 days of the course end. External accreditation is issued as soon as the accreditation body's verification process is completed.

Other Courses

For specific hazards and risks, courses can be tailored to meet corporate operational requirements. Call us to discuss options available to best match your own particular on-site requirements.

International Training

Many of our course qualifications are internationally recognised. We work to ensure effective & appropriate outcomes by applying adjustments for local protocols.

Risk Assessment

Comprehensive risk assessment consultancy is available, to determine levels of first aid, rescue personnel, medical cover, equipment, and training required, to meet health and safety legislation.
